Voters go to the polls Tuesday to chose two city commissioners

Voter turn out should be good Tuesday as citizens go to the polls in Belle Glade to elect two city commissioners. City Clerk Sue Teets said turn out in the Glades is traditionally higher than in county elections.

Daniel S. Bythwood

Veteran commissioners Daniel S. Bythwood and Harma Miller have both drawn opposition for their seats.

Mr. Bythwood, 65, has served three terms on the commission. He is retired from the Palm Beach County School Board where he worked for 40 years.

Mrs. Miller, 49, is campaigning for her fifth term on the commission.

Dennis McCarthy, 36, is the owner of Glades Gas Company in Belle Glade. He is challenging Mr. Bythwood for Seat A.

14 families affected by mercury spill must stay in motels for two more weeks

Two families permitted to go home Tuesday

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

It wasn't what most of them wanted to hear, but only two families are being allowed to return to their homes after mercury contamination was found two weeks ago.

Calvin and Virginia Lamb looked tired and cross Tuesday as they ate lunch provided by the American Red Cross at the Belle Glade Civic Center.

"We want to go home, but I don't think we're going to be able to," said Mrs. Lamb. The Lambs and their children learned they must stay at least two more weeks in a motel while their home in the northeast section of town is aired out of mercury fumes.

Events began around Aug. 25 when three children found four pints of mercury in an abandoned van at 824 N.E. 25th Street.

They shared the mercury with friends, pouring it into aspirin bottles and other small containers, spreading the contamination.

Beginning Aug. 29, Belle Glade Police and Firefighters started waking families up in the night, questioning them and testing them for mercury contamination. Almost 350 residents were tested and went through decontamination procedures. Glades Central High School was closed for one day last week as federal workers tested classrooms for mercury. The American Red Cross quickly moved in to assist the families and provide food and clothing.

The Environmental Protection Agency began helping with the cleanup by Friday, Aug. 26, after state officials reached the limit they could spend for the cleanup. Specialists with the Ohio Hazardous Materials Corporation were brought in. The Palm Beach County Public Health Unit has been involved since the beginning.

"Everybody's been very cooperative," said Lt. Jack Fulenwider with the Belle Glade Police Department. "The Red Cross has been wonderful," he added.

American Heart Assoc. gearing up for successful 1994 Heart Walk

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Last year, the Glades American Heart Walk was the most successful in the county, netting the most money per walker. This year, Heart Walk Co-chairmen Kendra Perkins and Lee Sutterfield hope to do even better during the Oct. 1 event at the Belle Glade Marina.

"We have a goal of raising $17,000 from the walk itself and another $3,000 in sponsorships for a total of $20,000," Ms. Perkins said.

Registration for the walk will begin at 7 a.m. and the walk will begin promptly at 8 a.m.

A Captain's Kickoff will held Aug. 31 at Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative and Ms.

Perkins said the captains are hoping to recruit 250 walkers for this year's event.

Money raised from the Heart Walk will be used to reach thousands of school children through the schoolsite program designed to teach kids how to establish healthy lifestyle habits at an early age.

It will also be used to provide free blood pressure screenings to people in the Glades, which results in the prevention of cardiovascular disease before it strikes.

It will help fund CPR classes in the community, and the money is also used to fund American Heart Association research projects that increase infant survival rates and the quality of life for citizens.

Hurston Museum begins grand opening activities with prayer breakfast

The grand opening of Belle Glade's Black History museum, the Zora Neale Hurston Roof Garden Museum, will be celebrated with several public events beginning Sunday, Sept. 11, with a prayer breakfast, co-sponsored by Glades General Hospital.

The prayer breakfast, coordinated by Museum Board members Tom W. Brown and Dr. George White, will be held at 8 a.m., Sunday, in the Kountry Kitchen restaurant, located at 1525 N.W. Ave. L, Belle Glade.

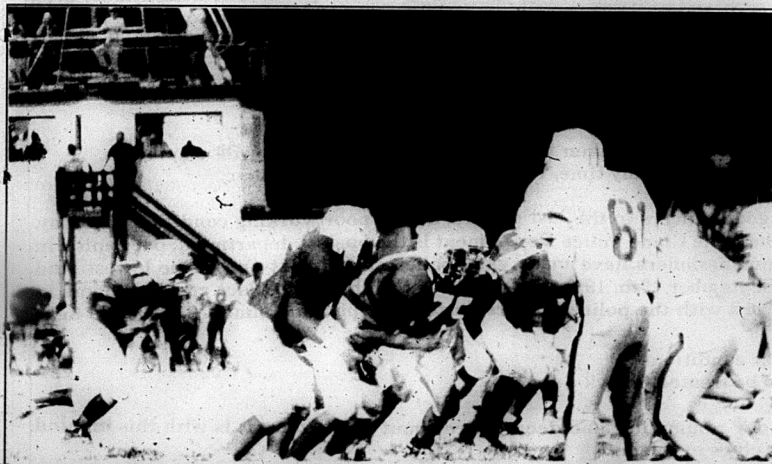

The public is invited. "Our activities over this past year have been a giant leap of faith," said Chairman Brown, "and we are grateful for the prayers of those who have kept us going. If it were not for prayer, getting the things done that needed to be done to get the museum up and running would have been a lot harder."

The prayer breakfast is one of the two grand opening activities to be held next week. The second, a benefit concert featuring "The Ladies of Mystique," will be held at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center on Friday, Sept. 16, beginning at 8 p.m.

"Ladies of Mystique," four South Florida natives, are winners of the Magic City Mega Talent Search of 1992 and the coveted PACE/Pepsi R & B Showcase title for 1993-94. Tickets are $12 and can be purchased at the museum.

Other grand opening activities and the ribbon cutting ceremony are being re-scheduled for mid-November due to weather-driven construction delays on the museum's building.

The awesome Pahokee Blue Devils shut out the Palm Beach Gardens' Gators this past weekend with a score of 38-0. The Pahokee team will play again Friday night at Cardinal Newman at 7:30 p.m.

He had the perfect job until hurricane in 1900

By Mike Lyons

Isaac Cline loved to watch the weather. He would sit for hours on the beach at Galveston Island, Texas looking at the surf and the clouds and any other weather features Mother Nature dreamed up.

As Galveston's first meteorologist, Cline had the perfect job. After all, he was being paid to do what he loved: watch the weather.

He would rise before dawn each morning to go for a walk along the beach. Then, it was off to his weather station for a check of the temperature, the barometric reading and the wind speed and direction.

Isaac would telegraph that information along with his personal observations to the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington, D.C. The rest of the day was his to watch the weather.

Yes, Isaac had the perfect job. Until, the morning of Sept. 8, 1900. The day the Galveston hurricane came calling.

On that fateful Saturday morning Isaac realized immediately that something was not right with Galveston's weather. The wind was strong from the North yet the surf continued to rise. His barometer had dropped only a tenth of an inch overnight yet Isaac had a bad feeling. He filed a telegram with the Weather Bureau in Washington noting his observations and his misgivings.

Remember, this was 1900 a time when there were no radar's, no satellites, no way of telling if a major hurricane was lurking a few miles offshore. Cline had heard of a tropical disturbance passing through the Florida Keys a few days earlier but he had no idea that a major storm was coming toward Galveston.

When he returned to the beach a few hours later, Isaac became convinced that a big storm was headed for Galveston. The winds were now blowing hard and steady from the North while the surf had reached the streets of the city.

Cline knew what the residents of Galveston did not know: a big storm was imminent. Like a modern-day Paul Revere, Isaac jumped on a horse riding up and down the beach urging residents to seek higher ground. Many followed his advice while others thought he was crazy.

He was later credited with saving the lives of thousands of people, yet for Galveston, and for most of its residents, it was too late. Throughout the day the winds increased and the waters continued to rise as a category four hurricane slammed into the town.

No one knows how strong the winds were on that day. Isaac's anemometer* was ripped from its supports when the winds gusted to 100 mph. We do know how high the water rose, however.

The highest point on the island was just over nine feet. The surge of the ever-rising tide along with gigantic waves produced an eleven foot wall of water that covered the island. The water was so strong that entire structures were lifted from their foundation.

The Galveston Hurricane of 1900 resulted in the greatest confirmed loss of life of any natural disaster in United States history. Over 6,000 people were confirmed dead. Nearly every building on the island was damaged. The city was never the same.

Neither was Isaac Cline. He lost his wife, most of his friends and his enthusiasm for meteorology. He still went for that daily walk along the beach and he still recorded the weather observations. It wasn't the same, however. Now it was just a job.

38 Local American Red Cross Volunteers Continue Disaster Relief in Belle Glade

The Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Red Cross was called first by the Belle Glade Fire Department Thursday evening Aug. 25, as they discovered a community-wide exposure of mercury. The Red Cross has remained in operation since Thursday and to date has provided 1,860 meals, 73 comfort kits, 43 friendship boxes and vouchers for clothing for eight of the 15 displaced families.

The Red Cross has spent approximately $8,800 which is expected to increase at a rate of $1,000 per day. There have been 38 Red Cross disaster volunteers working this disaster; and, the Red Cross is available to provide service at any time - day or night.

The Red Cross volunteers

have served three hot meals a day to the families who have been evacuated from their homes and to the service personnel working to clean up the mercury. The Red Cross Emergency Response Vehicle can be seen every couple of hours in the field providing beverages and snacks to the workers who continue the clean-up around the clock. The refreshment service is offered to help combat fatigue and heat exhaustion.

Most people who fell victim to the mercury contamination were required to leave their homes with little or no supplies. The comfort kits given out include personal hygiene items such as soap, toothbrush and toothpaste, and are packed separately for men, women and children. A friendship box is a small comfort kit for children filled with essential hygiene items such as Kleenex, toothbrush and toothpaste, soap, a comb and a small toy for a boy or a girl (crayons, small coloring book, markers, puzzle, miniature cars, jacks, etc.) and were packed by elementary school children throughout Palm Beach County.

These friendship boxes have been distributed to the children displaced from their homes and are an outright gift from one child to another.

All Red Cross disaster assistance is FREE and made possible by voluntary gifts of time and money from the American people. For further information please call 833-7711.

Your Police Officers Need Your help!!!

Your police officers have been working for two years with no pay raise, so in 1992 they decided they wished to collectively bargain as a group. On May 25, 1994, at 7:30 a.m., following two years of negotiations, and over four years with no pay raise, the current city commission legislatively imposed the following rules on your police officers:

1. A police officer grosses $426.00 per week, based on a 43 hour work week. This dropped the base pay from $10.67 per hour to approximately $9.90 per hour.
2. In addition, police officers are not paid time and a half for the overtime hours worked. They are paid half time or less! For example: if an officer worked 42 hours overtime in a work week, he would get approximately $125.00, or about $3.00 per hour!
3. Police officers with less than 5 years on the police department now receive 5 days a year vacation, instead of the 12 days which they used to have.
4. Off-duty details that used to be voluntary and for which officers were paid $18.00 per hour are now mandatory and officers are paid a 2.3% bonus to their hourly rate. Refusal to work these details can result in an officer being fired.
5. The city commission requires all police officers to reside within the corporate city limits of Belle Glade, even though numerous other city employees, including several department heads, are not required to reside in Belle Glade. The police officers are asking for a reasonable radius in which to live, which would still give the city a reasonable response time by its police officers. Belle Glade is the only city in Palm Beach County which requires its police officers to live in the corporate city limits or to face being fired from their jobs.
6. Your police officers had their Civil Service protection taken from them and were made "at-will" employees. "At-will" means that the police officers can be fired at any time, for any reason, with no recourse.

Your police department has lost 35 to 40 good officers in the last 4 years, due to poor working conditions and pay. Channel 12 news recently reported that the Belle Glade Police Department is the busiest department, per capita, in the state of Florida. Your current city commissioners have made your police department one of the lowest paid departments in Palm Beach County. On September 13th, 1994, you will have the chance to place commissioners in the city commission who are willing to work with the police officers, instead of spending almost $100,000 to fight them.

Could you support your family under these conditions?
All your police officers are asking for is to be treated fairly!!

The police officers are very dedicated to our community, and deeply care about its citizens. It is with this in mind that we ask for your help in resolving our city's problems.

PHS Devil's defense devastates Gators 38-0

By Robbie Everett

The Pahokee High School defensive and special teams led the Devils to a home opening shut-out over the Palm Beach Garden's Gators.

The Gators' quarterback was sacked six times and the team was held to 51 total yards (52 yards passing and minus one yard rushing).

Defensive player Ronald Boldin, sophomore tackle, had a second quarter safety and teamed with Fred Smith and Anthony Williams to lead the Devils' attack on the hapless Gators.

Corey Pate intercepted a 4th quarter pass for a touchdown. Alphonso (Nard) Bonniel, senior DB, recovered a 2nd quarter fumble to set up a Lefann Williams touchdown.

Nard also had a 4th quarter interception to seal the shut-out. Sophomore wide receiver James Burroughs returned the opening kick-off 90 yards for a touchdown and later a two point conversion after a Lefann Williams touchdown.

Lefann, junior tail back, was named "Player of the Week" scoring three touchdowns and two, two point conversions. Williams carried 15 times for 167 yards. The team was led by quarterback Darrell Smith completing five of eight passes for 67 yards.

The team compiled more than 300 total yards this week.

A new face to the Special Team this season is #16, freshman, filled goal kicker Victor Rodriguez. When he gets used to the pressure, look out!

"Offensively we were a little inconsistent. The potential is there. I think we were a little complacent. We'll need to improve for this week's first district game against Cardinal Newman," said Head Coach Mark Kaczanowicz. "It's critical that we're at our best on the road," he added.

They're breaking the law

"My son rides a bus to school and he gets on the bus at Bacom Point Road. He's been to school eight days now and out of the eight days, somebody has passed the bus while it was stopped three times.

I was wondering if you might be able to contact the police department in Pahokee and see if there is something they can do about it, because somebody is going to get hurt really bad.

So, if you all could check into that I'd appreciate it. Thank you."

Editor's note: We referred your question to Lt. Danny Jones with the Pahokee Police Department. He said his department has already been increasing patrols on Bacom Point Road due to the closing of S.R. 15. He said citations have gone up from approximately 30 per month to as high as 90. He said extra patrols will specifically be assigned to monitor Bacom Point Road during school hours to detect and prevent this problem.

Thank you for Speaking Out.

The mercury van

"I'm sitting here looking at The Sun photo of the van on 824 N.E. 25th Street. I'm wondering how it got by the City of Belle Glade's Planning and Building Department.

If my grass gets over knee high, I get slapped with a code violation and this has been there for years and is grown up with bushes.

I want to know why nothing was done."

Editor's note: We spoke with Gene Simmons, director of public services for the City of Belle Glade. He says there is only one code enforcement officer and 99 percent of their time is spent handling complaints over the telephone. They never received a complaint about this property, therefore, they were unaware of the problem. "We just don't have the manpower to canvass the city from one section to another," said Mr. Simmons.

Think again

I'm calling about all the complaints about the building inspector for the City of Belle Glade.

Before we condemn the city's building code enforcement, just think about Dade County and Hurricane Andrew's destruction because of poor and lax inspections.

Thank you.

It must be nice

"I'm just sitting here in envy of all the people who work for the Palm Beach County School Board. They just got a four-day holiday with many more planned during this school year.

While I envy them, I also must say to them how much I appreciate what they do. Even with all the vacation time, I couldn't do what they do.

Hats off to you!"

Guarantee your loved ones a "safe return"

By Jacqueline Orsborne, LPN and family consultant for the Pahokee branch of the Alzheimer's Association.

Imagine that your husband or wife, or mother or father went out for their regular daily walk. But he/she didn't return home!

You don't understand what could possibly be wrong, and of course, you are worried beyond belief. That person followed the same pattern as usual but this time it turned out differently. Much differently.

Sure, you knew your relative displayed some sign of memory lapse, but he/she always knew how to get back to the safety of their home before. What happened today?

As your heart rate speeds up and your breathing becomes rapid and shallow, with sweaty palms you begin calling everyone you can think of - from your relatives, to best friends, to the man at the newspaper store and, finally, the police - to report a missing person.

As the hours drag on and terror gets a grip on you, you begin to fear the worst! Was he/she abducted? Hit by a car? Dying in some hospital?

In almost all cases of elderly missing persons, it turns out that the early stages of Alzheimer's or related dementia disorders

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

A new academic year is here, introducing our children to new classmates, friends and teachers perhaps even new schools and colleges. Along with the excitement will be many new situations that will undoubtedly challenge them and their ability to make the right decisions.

One of the best insurance policies that we, as parents, can provide for their safety is open, respectful, and regular communication about the challenges they may confront -- including the issue of illegal underage drinking.

To help, we at Bernie Little Distributors, Inc., Belle Glade's distributor of Anheuser-Busch beers, offer "Family Talk About Drinking," a set of guidebooks and video available free of charge to those who call 1-800-359-TALK.

Developed by authorities in alcohol research, education and family counseling, "Family Talk About Drinking" gives parents helpful advice on discussing expectations, peer pressure, and respect for the law. The guidebooks are also available in Spanish.

Whether we're sending our children off to school in the morning or off to college for the year, let's remember the key role we as parents play in helping them learn to make responsible and healthy decisions.

Sincerely,

are taking hold and your loved one is merely lost. But lost where? Did that person get on a bus for a ride across several states searching for his/her childhood residence? Did he/she just lose their way and become totally confused while driving a car or going to do an errand?

Whatever the case is, the results are the same. Your loved one is lost and you have nothing to go on.

Memory loss, to most of us, is an inconvenience, even a cause for humor. But it's no joke to those affected by Alzheimer's disease. It robs four million American adults of their ability to recognize familiar places and faces.

Many cannot remember their own names and even lose their ability to speak. Memory-impaired individuals often cannot ask for assistance and are unable to help others help them. Their behavior can put them in danger.

They many become confused, even in their everyday surroundings. To regain control of their situation, many people with Alzheimer's disease go in search of something reassuring - a behavior called "wandering."

How do you get them back home safely? That's fairly easy to accomplish IF you have them registered in our Safe Return Program.

This fantastic program helps others identify, locate, and return Alzheimer's and related disorder victims that are lost or missing. The program, started in April, 1993, was developed by using the expertise of existing local programs.

This chapter began the mission by putting together an I.D. Locator Program in conjunction with the local sheriff's office nearly 10 years ago and that helped to a larger extent.

But what about people who might drive away or hop a bus across several states? You can readily see that a need for a National Program was very important because of the mobility of our population, e.g. snowbirds.

Now, there is a central data bank listing all of the patients registered in the program and it is located in Arlington, Virginia. Information is stored in that bank listing the description of patients, their addresses and telephone numbers as well as emergency contacts for the patient. It also includes a photo of the patient.

Once a patient is registered, their I.D. number goes into the computer and also onto a bracelet or necklace, depending on the family's choice.

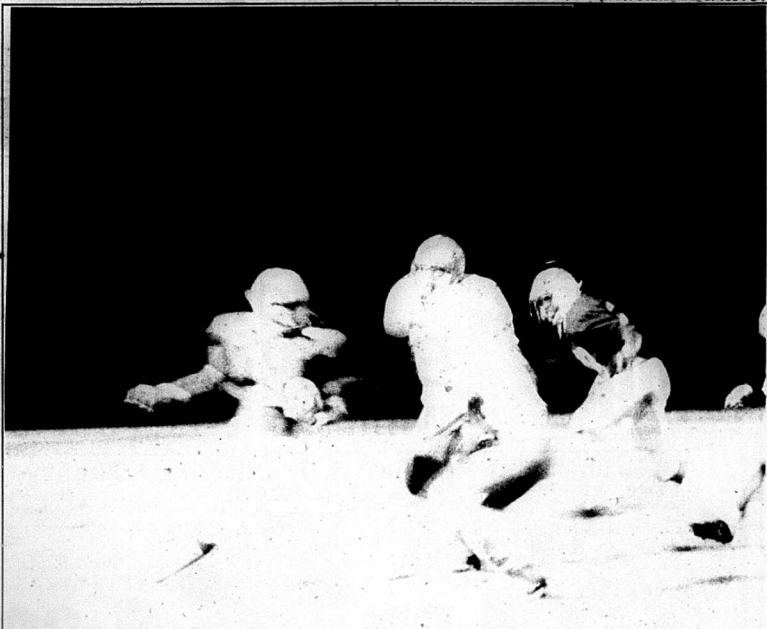

An order is then made for the personalized bracelet which lists the patient's first name or nickname, their I.D. number and the 800 number to reach our 24-hour operators at the Data Bank.

If your loved one is lost, a good samaritan or the police can see the bracelet, get the 800 number and the I.D. number, and call the operator in Arlington.

When they get that call, the operators immediately pull out the patient's emergency contact (usually the caregiver). Then plans are made to return the patient safely home.

Is it time you registered your loved one? Even healthy people have been known to become separated in times of crisis. Would you take a chance on losing your loved one with Alzheimer's disease?

As a caregiver, you certainly have enough to worry about. Here's one fear we can eliminate for you and let you rest a lot easier knowing that as a caregiver, you're taking the best care of your charge. You're

Pahokee native serving near Haiti

Hector Ruiz

Navy Seaman Hector Ruiz, son of Pedro and Marie Ruiz of Pahokee, is one of more than 3,000 Navy men and women and 2,000 Marines who patrol the waters just miles off the coast of Haiti.

Seaman Ruiz is onboard USS Trenton, an amphibious transport ship homeported in Norfolk, Va. The mission of the ship is to transport and land amphibious vehicles and Marines during an amphibious assault.

Seaman Ruiz and the rest of the crew, which includes a Marine contingent, have spent the last four weeks stemming the Caribbean waters off Haiti as part of a four-ship amphibious ready group. The ARG augments combined forces assigned to enforce United Nations Security Council sanctions aimed at restoring democracy to Haiti.

The ARG provides additional amphibious non-combatant evacuation operation capable forces. There are 12 Navy ships currently supporting Operation Support Democracy.

The Sailors and Marines departed Norfolk, Va., and Morehead City, N.C. more than a month ago. Seaman Ruiz and the crew of USS Trenton began their current mission just two weeks after they returned from a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and Indian Ocean.

"I'd say the Navy is a challenging and demanding job," Seaman Ruiz said. "It's an important job because we are here to protect our loved ones and our freedom."

Seaman Ruiz completed two years of college, entered the Navy last year, following graduation from Pahokee Junior/Senior High School.

New teachers receive warm welcome to the Glades area

The Sun newspaper will do a special feature each week in the newspaper on the new teachers in our reading area. A school will be profiled weekly in hopes of introducing the community to the teaching professionals that are responsible for our children a majority of the day.

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter
School: Glade View Elementary

Principal: Mr. Hagerman
Assistant Principal: Mrs. Turner
Location: 1100 S.W. Avenue G, Belle Glade

Telephone number: 996-4980
Numerous teachers have joined the teaching team at Glade View Elementary this year. They are:

• Samuel Barbose - A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Mr. Barbose is a fourth-grade extension teacher. New to the Palm Beach County School System but very much familiar with the teaching profession, Mr. Barbose worked previously in a part-time position with students, however, this is his first full-time teaching job. Mr. Barbose said, "I chose the Palm Beach County School system because it's excellent to work in. The Glades-area students seem to be eager to learn and the parents are very supportive."

Samuel Barbose

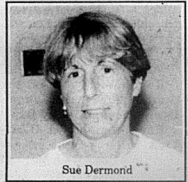

• Kathleen Hutchinson - Ms. Hutchinson is a first-year teacher having graduated from Florida Atlantic University in 1992. The first-grade teacher previously worked with a communications company before entering the teaching profession. "A friend of mine told me about the area and told me about the system. I am very happy here," Ms. Hutchinson said.

Kathleen Hutchinson

• Sue Desmond - A returning teacher after many years, Ms. Desmond is a fourth-grade extension teacher. Originally from Rochester, N.Y., she previously worked with a ministry group. She said, "The kids need my help and I enjoy the children."

Sue Desmond

• Janet VonSchleusingen (Ms. Von) - Originally from Maine, Ms. Von is a first-year teacher. Once a substitute in Maine and now a fifth-grade teacher, Ms. Von said, "I enjoy working with the children and seeing them make progress." She said she relocated to the Glades area because she wanted full-time work that was a challenge.

Janet VonSchleusingen

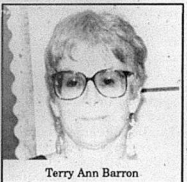

• Joann Hayden - A

Wellington resident with 20 years teaching experience under her belt, Mrs. Hayden is a second-grade extension teacher. Originally from West Virginia, Mrs. Hayden said she and her husband wanted a change from Virginia life. "We heard about Florida, we came here and we like it," she said.

Joann Hayden

• Terry Ann Barron - Ms. Barron is a second-year teacher having taught school last year in Clewiston. Originally from Washington, the fifth-grade teacher chose to relocate to Florida because "jobs are very scarce there (Washington)." She said she had family in Florida and she wanted to be near them.

Terry Ann Barron

• Rachel Knutson - Ms. Knutson joined Glade View Elementary after moving from

Rachel Knutson

New Orleans. She had previously taught school for four years. The third-grade teacher was blunt when saying, "This is where I found work." She said she enjoys Glade View Elementary because the children are very similar to the kids in New Orleans.

Kimberly Seibert - Mrs. Seibert teaches third grade and has been a school teacher for three years. She is the owner of the Belle Glade Merle Norman and Kiddie Connection. She had previously been employed by Pahokee Elementary as a first-grade Chapter 1 teacher. She said, "I enjoy teaching here (the Glades). I opted not to teach on the coast because I want to work in the community I live in."

Kimberly Seibert

• Joni Scarnato - Ms. Scarnato is the speech and language pathologist at the school. She taught school for four years. Originally from New Orleans, La., Ms. Scarnato said, "I was looking to work in a supportive community." She said she is continuing to grow in her field.

• Juan Gonzalez - Mr. Gonzalez is the music teacher for grades K-3 and 5. A teacher at Florida Atlantic University for two years, he still teaches at Palm Beach Community College. Mr. Gonzalez said he interviewed at Glade View because the school had just lost their music teacher. He said this is his first time in the elementary setting and "I am enjoying it."

• Noelle Lynch - Ms. Lynch is a preschool teacher. She previously worked at the West Area office last year where she was responsible for accessing preschool evaluations. The West Palm Beach resident said, "I chose to come to the classroom because I like to work with preschoolers all of the time. I'm interested in seeing their progress on a daily basis."

Happy couple exchange marriage vows in Hawaii

Troy N. Tyler and Renee Kaufman were united in marriage Aug. 4, 1994 in Hawaii. The ceremony took place at Honokahau Harbor, Kona, aboard Puka Kai.

The couple plan to live and work in Belle Glade.

Grant deadline nearing

The deadline for submitting grant applications to the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin counties is Oct. 1. Palm Beach County and Martin County non-profit organizations working in the areas of health and human services, the environment, education, community development, preservation and conservation of historical and cultural resources, and the arts are eligible to apply.

Grant awards range from $500 to $1,000 and up to $250,000 may be distributed in the upcoming fall grant cycle. The Community Foundation is particularly interested in awarding grants for pilot projects or seed money so that new projects may demonstrate their usefulness to the community, and for grassroots programs that help place disadvantaged people in control of their own local resources and their own lives.

The Foundation, one of nearly 400 across the country, operates with assets of $28,000,000 and distributes interest in the form of grants. During the 1993-94 fiscal year over $1,000,000 was granted.

Organizations seeking application information should contact program director Louise Grant at the foundation office at 324 Datura St. Suite 430, West Palm Beach, 33404, (407) 659-6800.

health hints

(NAPS)—For safety's sake, in the kitchen or at the grill, remember not to place cooked food on the same plate used for raw meats and poultry; the same rule applies to grilling utensils. You'll risk contracting salmonella, a type of foodborne bacteria that may cause food poisoning.

Grill meat and poultry to the "doneness" stage. Cook red meat to 160°F and poultry to 180°F. Check for "doneness" by using a thermometer, inserting the tip into the thickest part of the meat or poultry.

The usual signs of food poisoning are nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, fever or cramps. Depending on the type of food poisoning, it is sometimes difficult to diagnose and symptoms may appear anywhere from 30 minutes to two weeks after ingestion of the bacteria.

The United States Department of Agriculture's Recommended Safe Food Handling Practices suggest you "clean surfaces and hands after touching (raw) food products" as one of its guidelines. However, water and soap are not effective in killing salmonella. Use LYSOL® ANTIBACTERIAL KITCHEN CLEANER™, which is EPA-registered for killing germs including salmonella, a major cause of food-borne illness.

BALANCED DIET CAN BOOST HEALTH

(NAPS)—An apple a day keeps the doctor away...right? Well, while fruits in general are excellent sources of many vitamins and nutrients needed to stay well, they can't prevent all illnesses. The good news, though, according to The American Dietetic Association's (ADA) National Center for Nutrition and Dietetics (NCND), is that many foods can help reduce the risk of developing a number of diseases and other health problems.

"One of the keys to good health," said Nancy Schwartz, PhD, RD (registered dietitian), director of the NCND, "is to build a balanced diet with moderate amounts of a variety of foods."

"The new food label is an excellent tool to help consumers select many different foods that provide a variety of nutrients that can help prevent many illnesses."

The ADA encourages consumers to follow the guidelines of the USDA Food Guide Pyramid, which recommends six to 11 servings a day of grains, three to five servings of fruits, two to four servings of vegetables, two to three servings of dairy products, two to three servings of meat, poultry, fish, dry beans, eggs and nuts and minimal use of fats, oils and sweets.

"Using information on food labels to make food choices for a Pyramid-based diet is an important way to maintain or improve anyone's health," said Schwartz.

To help reduce the risk of:	Consume foods rich in:	Good sources:

Anemia, bleeding gums, depression, and joint pain	Vitamin C	Orange juice, green peppers, dark green vegetables and tomatoes
Birth defects (such as spina bifida)	Folate	Oranges, leafy green vegetables, meats, fish, poultry, shellfish, legumes, fruits and whole grains
Heart disease and oral, esophageal and reproductive cancer	Antioxidants (Vitamins C and E and beta carotene)	Citrus fruits; polyunsaturated plant oils such as margarine and salad dressings; green, leafy vegetables such as spinach; and carrots
Diarrhea, dizziness, itchy skin rash	Niacin	Milk, eggs, meat, poultry, nuts, fish, whole grain and enriched breads and cereals and nuts
Night blindness	Vitamin A	Carrots, tomato juice, sweet potatoes and spinach

Glades Central hands Cardinal Newman first defeat of the season

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

When the Raiders of Glades Central took to the field Friday night against the Crusaders of Cardinal Newman, they had no intention of losing the ball game, especially on their home field. The team that usually gives Glades Central a real head-banger on the football field were laid to rest as the Raiders mauled them 47-0.

Raiders tailback James Jackson scored four touchdowns and had a total of 274 yards. Jackson didn't allow but one tackle as the Raiders won their season-opener on Raider field.

Glades Central Head Coach Milton Watson said, "He really surprised me. I knew he had the speed but I didn't know he could break tackles. I didn't know he could run through people."

Coach Watson, who replaced last year's coach Rick Casgo, recorded his first career victory as a head football coach.

The Raiders' defense came out of the locker room prepared to do damage and that is what they did! They dominated Cardinal Newman from the first snap of the game. According to Jackson, "The defense was a single unit, we just merged as one."

On the Raiders' first play of the game, JaJuan Seider, quarterback, found Jackson and threw a pass for a 65-yard touchdown.

He then ran a 9-yard touchdown, an 88-yard touchdown, and an 85-yard touchdown.

Marcus Bowie, backup for Jackson, rushed for 104 yards, and scored two touchdowns in 11 carries.

Raider Johnny Rutledge began the game with an impressive three tackles at the line of scrimmage. He also intercepted a pass from Newman quarterback Floyd Roberts and returned it for a 43-yard touchdown.

According to Cardinal Newman Head Coach Sam Budnyk, "I can't remember seeing a high school linebacker move the way he does."

The Crusaders were shut down the entire game. Throughout the game, Cardinal Newman were only able to rack up 5 yards rushing and 47 yards passing. Throughout the game, Glades Central received 10 first downs while Cardinal Newman received four. The Raiders rushed for 472 yards. They passed for 65 yards and the Crusaders tallied 47 yards passing.

Glades Central were penalized numerous times for 135 yards while the Crusaders were penalized for only 15 yards.

Pahokee native in NFL, well-known 'Hit-Man'

Bob McManaman
The Arizona Republic

Andre Waters loved oranges. He could eat dozens of them a day, and he often did. In Florida, that's how a lot of kids in the neighborhood spent their time.

Waters loved oranges so much that he almost did time in a Pahokee jail. Oranges were easy to come by for most kids in the Sunshine State. They weren't for Waters, one of 11 children from a broken home on the poor side of town.

"I had to steal 'em," said Waters, a 10-year NFL safety who recently joined the Cardinals as a free agent. "On our way to school and back, we'd pull oranges off all the trees in people's yards."

They were hungry. The little money his mother, Williella, made from working on a farm - picking celery and corn - didn't stretch far - not with so many mouths to feed.

Ms. Waters never knew her son had been stealing the fruit until one day after junior varsity football practice, when Waters was 13. He and his friends were arrested. Waters was caught with about 50 oranges stuffed in a duffle bag.

"I knew I was in trouble," Waters, 32, recalled. "We didn't have a car and my mother had to walk 2 miles to the police station to pick me up. I was scared."

"I didn't know what she was going to do. One summer, I think I got whippin' everyday. She whipped up on me with a belt, and when she got really mad, she'd take out an extension cord."

When his mother arrived at the police station, she hit Waters where it hurt the most. She told him he would never be allowed to play football again!

"I probably wouldn't be here right now if it wasn't for one of the policemen there," he said. "He told my mamma, 'Ma'am, your boy was just with the wrong kids. He was just watching. Don't take football away from him.'"

Waters can't remember the name of the officer but remains forever indebted.

"I was lucky," Waters said. "I never would have played football again if it hadn't been for him."

And the NFL wouldn't have "Dirty Waters."

Waters got the nickname from a television announcer a few years into his pro career with the Philadelphia Eagles. He like almost no other safety before him - hard, low and with no remorse - and after racking up a list of fines for vicious, some say cheap hits on the quarterback, the name stuck.

Cardinals Coach Buddy Ryan, who made the former Cheney (Pa.) State walk-on player his starting strong safety upon becoming the Eagles' head coach in 1986, said the rap on Waters always was unfair.

In the next breath, however, when Coach Ryan is asked to evaluate his new safety, the coach says of Waters, "He's a hired killer. You can never have too many of those."

Translation: He's not a hit man. But, man, he can hit.

"I never said I was an angel," Waters said, "but I've never purposely tried to maim anybody. I just do my job, always try to make the play and help my team. I'm not a bad person."

Off the field, that's especially true.

"He's a warm and friendly guy," said Cardinals Linebacker Seth Joyner, a longtime teammate of Waters in Philadelphia. "Everybody loves him."

Well, not everybody. "He's a dirty player," Cowboys Running Back Emmitt Smith said. "He always has been."

Just ask David Archer, Jim Everett or Rich Gannon, just a few quarterbacks who almost had their careers ended by the 5 ft., 195 lb. defensive back. Waters was fined $1,000, $1,500 and $15,000 by the league for the abuse he heaped on those three players. Some say he got off easy.

Waters said he became the player he is partly because of former Denver Broncos receiver Steve Watson. In 1986, Waters was chasing down John Elway, who acted as if he was going to run out of bounds. Only he didn't, and Waters already had let up his pursuit.

"And then Watson came back and cracked on me from behind," Waters said. "I said from then on, I'm not going to slow up on another quarterback because there's always somebody behind you."

"If they don't want to get hit, they have no business running out of the pocket."

The jest, as they say, is history.

Waters, an undrafted free agent in 1984, cracked the Eagles' starting lineup after two years and preceded to lead the team in tackles each of the next three seasons. In 1991, Waters led the Eagles again with 156 tackles.

Waters suffered a broken left leg the next season, an injury that forced him to miss much of the last two seasons. An infection in the leg spread to his foot, and in 1 of his big toe had to be amputated.

"God pulled me through that," he said.

But, the Eagles released him, leaving Waters available for the Cardinals.

Waters recently was moved to weak safety in a move Coach Ryan thinks will help the team. He started there against Chicago early in the pre-season, recording three tackles, and is expected to keep the job despite the week's starting assignment being given to Brent Alexander, an undrafted free agent.

Waters reported to camp in excellent shape and his time in the 40-yard dash (4.62 sec.) was best among the team's safeties.

That's the player Ronnie Jones remembers from his days as an Eagles assistant under Coach Ryan.

"Andre would show up bright and early every morning and stay until we finished him to go home," said Jones, now the Cardinals' defensive coordinator. "He's one guy who can say truly made himself a football player."

Glades Day School upsets John Carroll 40-0

Paula Burkett

One, two, three, punt; one, two, three, punt was the rhythm for John Carroll Friday night when they faced the Glades Day School Fighting Gators in the opening game of this year's football season.

"Unfinished business" is motto of the Gator offense this year and the destroying defense is there to back them up.

The Gators' defense demonstrated their destroying tactics as they repeatedly stopped the Rams' offense. Senior running back, Jeff Goodale for the Gators, started the evening off with the first touchdown for the Gators with 5:34 left in the first quarter. The point after try failed and the Gators were on the scoreboard 6-0.

With 1:41 left in the first quarter, Marcel Bowens went in for the second touchdown for the Gators. The Gators went into the endzone for the two-point conversion boosting the Gators score to 14-0.

The Gators' defense held fast in the second quarter. They didn't allow John Carroll to make it into the endzone.

Junior linebacker Wren Sloan caused a fumble on a third down which caused John Carroll to punt again.

The Gator offense steadily drove the ball downfield to the 12-yard line and Bowens went in for the touchdown. The point after try was good and the Gators were ahead 21-0 at the end of the half.

The John Carroll offense

When the Gators of Glades Day School take to the field, a crowd is always there to cheer them on to victory. Even at away games, Gator fans travel great distances to help their team bring home a victory.

had a hard time in the third quarter against the Gator defense. The third quarter resembled that of the first half, however, John Carroll did manage to rush for a total of 71 yards for the evening. Stacey Cox intercepted a pass and ran it in for a touchdown for the Gators, but due to a penalty, the ball was called back.

The Gators continued to drive the ball back downfield and quarterback Jackie Garrett ran the ball in from the 8-yard line scoring the Gator's fourth touchdown of the game. The point-after-try failed and the score was 27-

0. At the end of the third quarter.

The Rams' defense could not withstand the Gators' offense in the fourth quarter. GDS senior running back Patrick Whitehead scored the Gators' fifth touchdown. The point-after-try was failed and the score was 33-0.

GDS running back Danny Scott scored the Gators' sixth and final touchdown of the night with 2:50 left on the clock. The point-after-try was good and the Gators were victorious over the Rams.

The Gators' offense rushed for 363 yards on 47 carries and passed for 122 yards for a total of 485 yards for their first game of the season. They were penalized nine times for a total of 65 yards. John Carroll had 32 carries for 71 yards and no passing yardage.

Goodale gained 128 yards on 16 carries.

Scott carried the pigskin 15 times for 94 yards.

Sloan led the Gators with 12 tackles. Shawn Whitlock, of the Gators, had 10 tackles.

The Gators will host Fort Lauderdale Westminister Friday evening at Gator field. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Blue Devils dominate game and defeat Palm Beach Gardens

The Pahokee Blue Devils had a decisive victory in their first game of the season against Palm Beach Gardens with a 38-0 victory.

Sophomore James Burroughs at the pace with an opening kickoff return for a 90-yard touchdown run. Junior tailback Lafain Williams scored on the conversion for the Blue Devils.

Burroughs also caught a pass for a two-point conversion.

After scoring 16 points in their first quarter, the Blue Devils came back and added eight more points in the second quarter, leading Palm Beach Gardens 24-0.

Senior free safety Corey Pate scored Pahokee's final touchdown after he intercepted a pass and returned it 40 yards into the endzone. The touchdown left the final score 38-0.

Pahokee made 15 first downs throughout the ball game. They rushed 36 times for 262 yards, and had 38 yards passing.

Pahokee will travel to Cardinal Newman Friday evening. The kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m.

What's wrong here?

Glades Day School senior Patrick Whitehead looks a little confused on the sideline even though his team is clobbering the Rams of John Carroll.
